

DOWN BY THE SEA.

NORFOLK AND VICINITY.

Showered in Death—Johanna O'Brien, daughter of John O'Brien, a member of the Richmond Dispatch, died at her home, 1000 North Main street, on Sunday, March 2, 1886.

A shocking accident occurred on Sunday, March 2, 1886, at the residence of Mrs. J. E. Carter, on the corner of Main and Second streets. The fire was caused by a gas lamp which had been left burning. The fire spread rapidly and destroyed the building and the contents. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

The advance in the price of cotton has made the dealers of this city very busy. The price of cotton has advanced from 10 to 12 cents per pound. The dealers are buying cotton in large quantities and are selling it at a profit.

The cotton receipts at this port during the month of February were 40,000 bales, a gain of nearly 7,000 bales over the receipts of the month of January. The foreign shipments during the month of February were 22,302 bales, a gain of nearly 4,000 bales over the shipments of the month of January.

In the navy-yard yesterday foreman of Spurnakers William Jarvis had his left hand badly mutilated and some of his fingers cut off, and as soon as the hand was dressed and he returned to work again he was killed by a falling spar, his head and shoulder being badly bruised and left nearly cut off.

There is a tendency of the peanut market to advance. Local sales are reported at an advance on quotations.

PETERSBURG AND VICINITY.

The Council Means Business—A committee to go to Washington, and to examine the work of the Virginia and Carolina Railroad—Some Facts about the Future Case.

PETERSBURG, March 2, 1886.—The city committee on the Virginia and Carolina Railroad, which was organized on February 10, 1886, has held its first meeting. The committee is composed of Messrs. J. E. Carter, J. H. Smith, and J. W. Smith. The committee has decided to go to Washington, D. C., to examine the work of the Virginia and Carolina Railroad.

Some business of interest outside of the usual routine was transacted by the Council last night. A committee of two, consisting of Mr. J. H. Smith, Jr., and Captain A. J. Rogers, was appointed to visit Washington and report to the committee on the future case.

Before the committee of the two houses of Congress, the interest of the Virginia and Carolina Railroad is being discussed. A letter received from Congressman Brady states that the congressional committee are favorably disposed to make a liberal appropriation for the improvement of the road.

An earnest and systematic effort is to be made to secure such an appropriation from Congress this year as will secure a permanent improvement of our river and harbor.

The Council last night appropriated $1,000 to pay Mr. George W. Congdon, of Chesterfield county, that being the verdict of the jury in Mr. Congdon's recent suit against the city for injuries received in the public street.

This verdict settles the fact that the city will hereafter allow no ropes to be stretched across its streets for the benefit and protection of sick persons.

The Finance Committee have been authorized to employ a competent expert to examine and make report upon the work done along the line of the Virginia and Carolina Railroad.

Between this city and Ridgewood, N. C. This engineer will proceed to Ridgewood, and from that point will travel along the line to Petersburg in a private conveyance, making a careful estimate of all the work done. Everything in connection with this road has been and is being done in such a manner, and is likely to cause so much trouble and loss, that the Council desires to get the true facts in the case, and how it money, so freely given to the company, has been expended. It is not improbable that the public will yet be treated to some lively developments in this matter.

As far as known Quincy Bain, the murderer of William P. Bain, in Sussex county, has not yet been caught. The officers of the neighborhood are making every effort to capture him, leaving the case altogether in the hands of the officers who have the warrants. It is thought by some that the murderer will after while voluntarily surrender himself. The murdered man leaves a widow and three or four children.

The sheriff of Sussex county is engaged in summoning witnesses in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Holmes E. Puryear, charged with the murder of his wife, which is set for the 16th of March, at a special term of the Circuit Court. The readers of this Dispatch are familiar with the details of this horrible affair. Puryear was at one time a school teacher in Dinwiddie county, but leaving the school he became a peddler. He became a store-keeper in his county, the place of business being about three miles from the Courthouse. There he married a young lady of the county, under compulsion, it is supposed, and it is charged that after treating her unkindly he poisoned her. Certain it is that traces of strychnine were found in her stomach, as also in a glass which he gave her a stimulant. Puryear was last confined in the city jail for safe-keeping for the past eight months. He has engaged counsel and will make a strong fight for his life. He seems to be confident of acquittal, and has expressed his determination to go into the cigar business in Philadelphia. The case will take rank among the celebrated trials in the annals of the State.

FINCASTLE.

An Accidental Fire—Local Notice.

FINCASTLE, March 1, 1886.—Saturday morning, at 12 o'clock, a fire broke out in the cabinet-shop of Nathan Fowler. The building was an adjoining stable was destroyed, and the flames were with difficulty prevented from spreading further. Loss about $1,200, including several hundred bushels of corn, hay, furniture, &c.; insurance about $300. The fire was accidental.

The friends of local option met Friday night and determined to present a petition for an election next Monday (next day) to the county judge. It is proposed to have an election for the whole county, and the committee are at work getting the necessary number of signatures. For this county 649 names are required. The whole mat-

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

NEWS NOTES HERE & THERE.

Revolution Accepts—The Revolution Convention, a National-Social-Political and Literary, is held at the Raleigh Hotel, Raleigh, N. C., on Sunday, March 2, 1886.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 2.—Hon. Augustus Van Wyck, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address before the Philanthropic and Dialectic Literary Societies at the State University, at Chapel Hill, at the commencement of the University, and is now judge of the Brooklyn City Court.

Henderson, Oxford, Durham, and Raleigh are all to vote on the prohibition question June 1st. Reports from other towns where the matter was brought by petition before the county commissioners have not yet been received.

Several sheriffs to-day made settlements, so that out of the whole number of ninety-six sheriffs have paid their taxes in full.

The snail in railway matters in Rutherford county continues. George W. Logan, who was trustee of the Rutherford Railway Company, which holds valuable franchises, failed to give bond in $200,000, and has been displaced, and Frank Cox, of Charlotte, chosen in his stead. The latter has been rather identified with the Richmond and Danville interest.

The wife of Attorney-General T. F. Davidson is very ill here. She has for some time been feeble.

Commissioner of Immigration John T. Patrick says that marked attention continues to be paid this State by capitalists. Thus far this year the number of immigrants in the number of immigrants and the amount of capital is very gratifying. There is much solidity in the enterprises, and the success achieved appears to gratify the new-comers.

Mr. Patrick speaks very encouragingly of the prospects, and feels sure that the present year will be a successful one.

It is said that the right of way has been secured for the Atlantic and Raleigh railway all the distance from Nashville, Nash county, to Raleigh. Three townships in Wake county voted bonds in aid of the old road, but it is hardly probable that the Wilmington and Weldon road, which is now constructing the line, will either need or call for these bonds. The prospect of this new road being speedily completed gratifies the people.

A Baltimore Drummer Gives Evidence to Offense Sentiments.

A Gamesville special to the Atlanta Constitution says: Thursday night in the Arlington Hotel a party of gentlemen were severely criticizing the action of the prohibitionists in bringing Fisher Turner from Atlanta, and were attempting to obtain a room and meals for him at the Hudson House, and in general making so much of him, they denounced the action of the prohibition committee as tending to encourage the negroes in the demand for civil rights. A Massachusetts man, who drums for a Baltimore house, took up the gauntlet in favor of the colored brother, and stoutly maintained the negro's right to occupy the same hotels, sit at the same tables, and if he chose to marry a white wife, should choose to marry a white wife.

At Gamesville we heard by an Atlanta gentleman who travels for and is a member of one of that city's leading wholesale houses. A hot talk ensued and came near resulting in a personal difficulty. But friends interfered, and the Massachusetts man was earnestly advised by gentlemen to desist in making any more such remarks. But he went on arguing the equality question into the night, and went to the court-house. After listening to the powerful speech of the Bishop he came back still more enthused. Nothing could exceed his admiration for him. He asserted that he would rather have his daughter marry such a negro than an ignorant white man. Though urged not to do so, he began again next morning and made himself so obnoxious that late in the afternoon a party of gentlemen waited on him and were about to lay violent hands on him, but desisted on his retracting. He had contracted to furnish parties here with goods amounting to $400, but the order was countermanded. He went away last night a wiser man.

It is stated that ex-Governor Crittenden, of Missouri, is to be given a unanimous election to the Legislature by his home county if he will accept.

WOMAN'S FACE.

What furniture can give such finish to a room as a tender woman's face? asks George Eliot. Not any we are acquainted with. The face is the most beautiful of all the works of God. It is the mirror of the soul. It is the window of the heart. It is the key to the door of the mind. It is the light of the world. It is the life of the nation. It is the hope of the future. It is the glory of the past. It is the pride of the present. It is the joy of the world. It is the love of the heart. It is the power of the soul. It is the strength of the arm. It is the wisdom of the head. It is the beauty of the face. It is the grace of the body. It is the honor of the name. It is the glory of the crown. It is the power of the scepter. It is the wisdom of the council. It is the love of the people. It is the strength of the army. It is the wisdom of the state. It is the beauty of the church. It is the grace of the school. It is the honor of the family. It is the glory of the nation. It is the power of the world. It is the wisdom of the age. It is the love of the race. It is the strength of the empire.
